

SOLUTION BRIEF

Supplier Risk Management

Continuously monitor supplier health and mitigate threats with AI-driven insights, prioritized alerts, and collaboration tools.

Challenges

Procurement and supply chain professionals are often under-resourced yet responsible for mitigating risk across hundreds, if not thousands, of suppliers. The task of staying on top of supplier health becomes exponentially more difficult due to the many disparate, siloed tools used to assess supplier health across numerous risk categories. These solutions often overwhelm users with an abundance of alerts, making it challenging to proactively mitigate risks and identify potential disruptions before they happen.

Craft Supplier Risk Management makes it easy to assess and prioritize risk based on what's most impactful to your organization, helping you proactively avoid costly disruptions to your supply chain.

Craft makes it easy to access and understand supplier data

With 360-degree visibility into your supplier networks, you can eliminate manual web searches, save time, and make smarter, faster supplier decisions with more accurate information. Streamline and shorten procurement cycle times with accurate and relevant data, insights, alerts, and action plans.
